Physiotherapy provides services to the individual and populations to develop, maintain, restore and optimize health and function throughout life. It includes providing services to people compromised by ageing, injury, disease and environmental factors.

Identification (diagnosis) of disease and maximizing quality of life and movement potential by using promotion, prevention, treatment, habilitation and rehabilitation is the main role of physiotherapists. Physiotherapists are registered health practitioners who are educated to practice autonomously by applying scientific knowledge and clinical reasoning to assess diagnose and manage human functions.

The practice of physiotherapy is not confined to clinical practice and encompasses all the roles that a physiotherapist can assume such as education, patient care, health management and research. After four and half years of graduation (B.P.T) a physiotherapist can work in following aspects:

- A specialist clinician in private clinics
- Work together with other physiotherapy professionals and within health team in various disability settings
- As demonstrators in educational institutes
- Can move abroad
- Senior physiotherapist in sports centers
- Health managers in MNCs

After pursuing MPT of two years after graduation the scopes widens up:

- Work as educationists in Govt. and private universities
- As senior physiotherapist in private and government clinics
- As department incharge of physiotherapy in various Govt. and private hospitals
- Can indulge in research projects of various levels
- Can get associated with national and international level sports teams
- Can work as physiotherapist in armed forces

Here at Dasmesh college of Physiotherapy we are providing quality education that is parmost in this area with well equipped building:
